A very Extensive Supply.
IN offering this stock of goods to the inhabitants of Newport and vicinity, I am aware that the satisfaction of making a good bargain is incomplete—it is not realized when the purchaser does not know that he is receiving for his money the very best return. To give, in this case, full assurance, I will say, that whilst the above goods are too valuable to allow of being purchased at low prices than other goods in market, I will notwithstanding, sell them at such prices as cannot fail to secure a continuance of that custom which I already have so largely and so liberally received.

CHA'S C. HEATH.

THE FIRST SIGHT OF LIVERPOOL.—The Rev. H. W. Bellows in a letter to the Christian Inquirer thus gives his first impression of the double of New York at the other end of the Ocean route to the old world:

"We have spent two days in running about Liverpool, never weary of staring at the life, and manners, and customs, and houses, and equipages of a foreign people. To us, every thing is new, and strange, and exciting. The very color of the city, largely made of stone, originally soft in hue, but mellowed by smoke and rain, is full of charm for our eyes. The style of building, reminding us most of Philadelphia, is essentially peculiar. It is massive, thorough, and to our inexperienced, picturesque. The public buildings are substantial and costly, and the new "Law Building," not quite completed, is on the whole, the most splendid edifice we have ever seen. We wonder that travellers have usually passed Liverpool by so contemptuously! We think an unsophisticated American, with an eye for what is characteristic, finds there a little of everything peculiar in English civilization; and we are not ashamed to own that we were kept staring with surprise and delight, or with painful interest and sad curiosity during every moment of the day. Even to watch the endless variety of the carriages and carts; to see the huge dray-horses, more like elephants than horses; the beggars in the streets; the soldiers; the police; or to notice the "strong" boots and shoes at the shop window, was occupation exciting and amusing enough! If to these we add our first view of those gates of death, styled "gin palaces," which make the windows of apothecaries pale with their gaudy splendor, and furnish by far the most striking features in a night view of the streets of Liverpool, we shall indicate the chief source of our interest at the first blush."
The Rev. H. W. Bellows, in a letter to the Christian Inquirer, thus gives his first impression of the double of New York at the other end of the Ocean route to the old world, during the month of April two hundred and fifty thousand half dollars, and 2500 eagles, in value, $145,000.

THE DAILY NEWS.

Newport:

SATURDAY MAY 27, 1843.

BY O. F. JACKSON, 97, THAMES-ST.

ADVERTISERS will please bear in mind that the circulation of the DAILY NEWS is greater than that of any other paper published in Newport, or the combined circulation of any two papers issued from one office. As one proof of this fact, the list of Letters remaining in the Post Office are advertised in THIS PAPER, as BY LAW REQUIRED.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

In the Democratic Convention, at Baltimore, on Thursday afternoon, on the fourth ballot, LEWIS CASS was nominated as a candidate for the Presidency; and on the second ballot, Gen. WM. O. BUTLER was nominated as a candidate for the Vice Presidency.

The new and splendid steamer Empire State leaves New York, for this place and Fall River, next Thursday evening, to take her place on this route for the season. If anything, she is superior to the Bay State, and is said to be the most magnificent floating palace, in the shape of a steamer, that ever sailed upon any waters. This line of steamers between Boston and New York will then be superior to any; and passengers can be transported in this way with all possible despatch and comfort, arriving in either place sufficiently early in the morning for all practical and necessary purposes. There is certainly no other route of conveyance, by which they can be so safely and comfortably accommodated, and we are very confident that this will be the route, of all others, hereafter, between New York and Boston.

We learn from good authority that the famous and world-renowned "Sea Serpent," was seen in the waters of Narragansett Bay, a few days since, by a gentleman of this place; it appeared to be about 70 feet long, and he had the pleasure of seeing the sea animal curl himself up in a ring, and then stretch out again. His majesty did not condescend to inform the gentleman who saw him, how long he should remain in this vicinity.

As soon as the Empire State came to the Naval Dry Dock, at Boston, for the purpose of examining her bottom, to ascertain what repairs, if any, are needed on the same. The Company are determined to have their boats in perfect order, at the commencement of the great business season so as to avoid all accidents or detentions, that it is possible to foresee, and also to ensure safety to passengers, as far as apprehensions are concerned. It will take but a few days to do this, and then the line will be composed of the Empire State and Bay State; and we challenge the whole world to produce two steamers superior to them in all respects. The Governor will continue on this route until the Bay State resumes her trips.

In consequence of the dense fog which has hung around our ancient city for several days past, the steamer Governor did not reach here from Fall River until yesterday morning at about 4 o'clock; she left immediately for New York. We shall not therefore probably have a boat this morning, until a later hour than usual, if she comes at all.

The Bay State arrived from New York yesterday morning about half past ten o'clock, and the fog was so thick at the time, that it was with difficulty she could find the wharf; she got up in the vicinity of Fort Greene, and was detained some time in endeavoring to extricate herself, before she was able to land her passengers.

ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP.—The Pittsburg Morning Post gives an account of an attempt to kidnap a colored girl recently in that city. It seems that the girl escaped from the South about a year ago, where she was held as a slave. Her master hearing of her whereabouts, employed a colored scoundrel to make love to her, and under pretence of carrying her from home to marry her, to kidnap her back to her owner. The girl was induced to consent to the arrangement, but before it was consummated, her friends smothered the trap, and thus saved her.

(Correspondence of the News.)
Rio Grande, Texas,
April 30, 1848.

Mr. Editor:—

You were rash enough, in a back number of the "News," to request Toby to cut and come again. Now the said Toby, you must know, is an excellent specimen of that class of people who prefer ease and comfort, to anything else in the world, and make it a point to do just as little as possible, at any time, consequently Toby very seldom takes a notion to do anything in this line; but on the present occasion, feeling rather good natured, thinks he will make a few remarks.

In the first place, "firstly," it is monstrous warm; I have commenced at my cravat, and continued to divest myself of a greater portion of my wardrobe, in order to get cool, almost to the Mexican standard of dress, having fixed myself in a capacious arm chair, with a segar, &c. I have, at least, the honor to report myself as comfortable as could be expected.

We receive semi-occasionally, a copy of the "Daily News," and learn from it many wonderful things. We peruse the advertisements, and it is a comfort to us to know that Newton is agent for the "Pekin Tea Company," and always has a supply of the simon-pure, which he sells cheap, of course; that Charley Weeden has just received some of the latest songs; that Milton Hall has for sale a lot of five geese leathers," (raised in town?) that Rider has still a small quantity of the "morsels of delight" to spare, and that Mr. Tew is on hand, to take the "tarnal picture" of any young lady or gentleman who imagine themselves looking well in a frame. All these, and many other things we learn. There are some editorials, however, that we have perused with greater interest. In the "News" of Feb. 28th, we saw a few remarks about the great "Washington Ball." If I had read that description at the small end of the North Pole, blindfolded, upside down, without a name being mentioned, printed in Chinese, with a paint brush, I would have said Newport, all over. Ha! ha! Good. I would like to have seen that row of hungry "hombres" waiting for the "gals" to get through; and any one who knows the Newport girls, would make a small bet that they would help along the joke,—keep them waiting, and "take your time miss Lucy," would be the words. Who was rich a scene?—where did he get the idea from. Has he always been accustomed to the second table himself? or does he intend to strike out boldly, and establish new customs for society? Who ever heard of such a thing?—let the ladies go to supper alone? Bless my soul, who would be there to support any lady who took a fancy to faint. Did they go to the expense of hiring waiters for the ladies, or did they pour their own coffee? We call the Mexicans an ignorant, uncivilized race; yet they always seat the ladies at the table, and the gentleman that escorts the lady in stands behind her chair and becomes her "most obsequious servant."—sees that she is properly attended to—then helps himself. At a Ball given at Matamoros we saw it so managed, and very gently it was done, too. What a nice time for a little flirtation; standing behind the lady's chair gives one such an excellent opportunity of improving his Spanish, and of whispering sundry little things that would not sound so well "spoken out." I recommend to the gentlemen of Newport, that hereafter when they attend a Ball, in their own town, to carry a "lunch" in their pockets, and while the ladies are "sustaining nature," to set down in a row and each fellow eat his gingerbread and cheese with christian meekness, and be thankful for that. I think I know the gentleman that advocated this "new method," and if it was him, I am not at all surprised at the originality of the thing,—just about what might be expected.

In another copy of your paper I notice a long description of a supper, and procession of the Protection Fire Company, No. 5. I hope the young gentlemen got a chance at the first table that time. The company must have got well warmed up before leaving, as their universal theme was fire, and no one appeared willing to throw cold water on the subject, notwithstanding they profess to deal extensively in that article. Pray how long is it since they took to this singular element? I would like to ask, merely for curiosity, if so much talking did not make some of the gente extremely thirsty, and oblige them to stop and "take sum-thin" on their way home. I see our friend Cranston stood up and made a speech for an account of the Editor, who Mr. C. reports "a very modest young man," and that's why he appeared in his place. Now I am inclined to think it is the first time C. ever appeared before the public in that character, and whether he is or is not a fair representative of such an individual as "a modest young man," is not for me to say, I think there's very little danger of his ever being taken for Mr. J. in that respect. He ought certainly to be elected a member of the Engine Company, on account of his sporting qualities,—that is, if he can stand fire.

How did St. Valentine's day pass off with you? Great excitement amongst the ladies, of course. I wonder who sent me one of that beautiful sheet of paper; and the rose colored one too. Oh me! if I was only positive about that last one, I think I received one in a newspaper, from the same person, once upon a time. Am I right, Miss —? How are the young ladies, generally? Any of them think of "bestowing themselves," soon? Several gentlemen of my acquaintance have promised to visit Newport the coming summer, to select wives, and I have recommended several young ladies, so look out girls, I would be glad to hint that these gentlemen have the "tin." In conclusion, I would hope that my remarks about matters and things will not give offence, especially to the ladies; as for the gentlemen, I don't care a copper whether they like them or not; and if friend C. feels himself aggrieved, I will meet him on our old shooting ground at the Lily Pond some morning next summer, as I propose dropping along about then, to visit one or two friends that are friends, and to go taunting with uncle Denny Freebody.

The representative from your town who hangs out here, I am happy to state, is well and hearty, and never has owned up yet about that evening we caught him napping.

Toby.

P. S.—I understand that you are very fond of the study of Botany.

Brig Paul T. Jones, Taylor, at Philadelphia, 14th, from St. Thomas, on the 3d inst., in lat. 23 30, lon. 72 40' was chased by a piratical brig which tried to make herself look like a bark by the erection of a jigger-mast at her taffrail. The pirate pursued the Paul T. Jones, one entire day, changed his course and ran away from her. The pirate had been fully described to a passenger of the Paul T. Jones, by an English officer at St. Thomas, who is fitting out a steamer to go in pursuit of her.

Pittsburg, May 23, 1848.

The committee on the state of the Church have this day reported on the "Plan of separation," passed by the General Conference of 1844. They declare it to be of no effect, "null and void," for reasons which they assign at some length. The conference decided not to act upon it immediately, and it was made the order of the day for Wednesday. The report will probably give rise to a protracted and earnest discussion.

EMIGRATION OF THE EUROPEAN ARISTOCRACY TO AMERICA.—As we predicted, in March last, the aristocracy, the middling classes, and many wealthy capitalists of the old world, are turning their attention to this country. A friend writes to us under date:

LONDON, May 5, 1848.
 You will receive this summer very large numbers of distinguished people from the continent. Some go to make a tour of the States, others to select locations for themselves and relations. The fashionable watering places and summer resorts on the continent will be abandoned this year by the pleasure-seekers for America. Pleasure parties are organizing to visit Niagara, the Lakes, the Hudson, the upper Mississippi and the Mammoth Cave.

America, the refuge of the poor and oppressed, is now also a refuge for the aristocracy of Europe.—New York Star.

MASSACHUSETTS MORALS.—There are sixty divorce cases on the docket of the Supreme Judicial Court of Boston, at the present term. The applications are generally on the ground of adultery.

THE CHARGE AGAINST GEN. SCOTT.—It is stated that the proposition of Gen. Worth, which was submitted to the Court of Inquiry, to withdraw his charge against Gen. Scott, has been accepted by the administration, and therefore that all proceedings in the case will be quashed.

Dr. Ballbury, of Jamestown, Chautauque county, New York, a man who has until recently sustained the highest character, has been convicted of manufacturing spurious coin. The business was carried on upon a large scale, in a subterranean room, and the work of making money was done mostly in the night. He was sentenced on Saturday last to seven years in the State Prison. Charles T. Jeffers, an accomplice, who pleaded guilty, was sent to the State Prison for one year.

OPPOSITION.—Passengers were carried up and down the North River, last week, for nothing. The Albany Knickerbocker thinks they will get a dollar a piece to make the trip, next week.

LETTERS FOR THE PACIFIC.
The ship Margaret, Capt. Fayles, will sail from this port for the Pacific Ocean about the 15th of June, and a letter bag to be sent out by her, will be open for the receipt of letters at the store of Josiah Monroe, till the day of her sailing.

MOST EXTRAORDINARY WORK;
THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion,
By DR. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of the Diseases of Women.

Sixth ed., 1840, pp. 250. Price $1.
Twenty-five thousand copies sold in Three Months. Years of suffering, of physical and mental anguish to many an affectionate wife, and pecuniary difficulties to the husband, might have been spared by a timely possession of this work. It is intended especially for the married, or those contemplating marriage, as it discloses important secrets which should be known to them particularly. Truly, knowledge is power. It is health, happiness, affluence.

The revelations contained in its pages have proved a blessing to thousands, as the innumerable letters received by the author will attest. Here, also, every female can discover the causes, symptoms, and the most efficient remedies, and certain mode of cure, in every complaint to which her sex is subject.

On the receipt of One Dollar, the "Married Woman's Private Medical Companion" will be sent (mailed free) to any part of the U. S. All orders to be sent to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, Box 1121, New York City. Publishing Office, 129 Liberty street, New York.

Travelling Agents are informed that a few districts in Mass., and two other Eastern States, are yet unengaged. Application received [postpaid] as above.

ATTESTED BEFORE THE MAYOR OF NEW YORK CITY.

Consumption and Affection of the Liver cured of Twenty Years Standing.

City of New York, July 24, 1817.

THIS is to certify that I, Nelson Larabee, of Jersey City, have for a period of twenty years been subject to a dry hacking cough and a pain in the side and chest, attended with night sweats and general weakness of the system, and have been pronounced incurably consumptive. Neither the advice of regular physicians nor the many advertised remedies I have taken have been of any permanent benefit, and I was yielding hopelessly to the progress of my disease, when I was persuaded to try E. W. Vandersmith's Indian Cough Balm and Lung Balsam, by the aid of which all my symptoms have been removed and I have been wonderfully restored to the blessings of health and the prospect of a prolonged existence; in gratitude for which, and in the hope of benefiting others, I solemnly testify to the facts in this certificate.

NELSON LARABEE, Jersey City.

Sworn to before me, this 21st day of July, 1817.

WM. V. BRADY,

Mayor of the City of New York.

P. S.—If any person wishes to see me relative to my disease, they can call on board the New Jersey Ferry Boat foot of Courtland-st., N. Y.

Remarkable Cure of Mrs. Fleming of Fishkill, New York.

New York, April 1, 1818.

Dr. Vandersmith:—My wife has been afflicted for seven years, with an affection of the lungs, accompanied with a pain in the chest and side, difficulty in breathing, and general debility. I employed the best medical skill, and they finally pronounced her lungs diseased, and consequently despaired of effecting a cure. I was induced, by the representation of a friend, to try Dr. Vandersmith's Indian Cough Balm and Lung Balsam. I sent to New York for the medicine. Before she commenced taking the medicine, she was confined to her bed; her cough was incessant. After she had taken the medicine, the third day her cough abated considerably; she expectorated a great quantity of yellow matter; her difficulty in breathing subsided. Our family physician, who formerly attended her, called to see her, and he said she was improving; and advised her to continue the medicine. Although she was much enervated from the disease, she has been restored to health, and is as able to attend to her domestic duties as she ever was. I can with confidence recommend Dr. Vandersmith's Indian Cough Balm and Lung Balsam to Consumptives.

Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.

(Office No 21 Wall-st., N. Y.)

Insurance is secured by the System of Life Insurance now in successful operation in this company.

1st. Those in good health, of the proper age, and of sound constitution, will be insured at the lowest rate of premiums.

2d. The premium, if over $50, can be paid one-fourth in cash, and three-fourths in a secured note at 12 months, bearing 6 per cent. interest, and subject to assessments if required, or it may be paid weekly, monthly, or quarterly.

3d. Annual division of profits in scrip certificates which bear 6 per cent. interest, and if required a loan of two-thirds of the scrip will be made in cash—or the profits can be added to increase the amount insured.

4th. No persons are liable beyond the amount of their premiums.

5th. Married women may insure the lives of their husbands, secure from any demands of their creditors, if the premium does not exceed $300 per annum.

6th. Creditors may insure their debtors; or debtors themselves, for the protection of creditors.

7th. An insurance can be made so that the sum insured will be paid on attaining a specified age, or so near in the event of death.

8th. All claims on policies will be paid three months after notice and proof of death.

9th. No risk will be taken on any one life exceeding $5000, until the surplus profits amount to $50,000; then the amount of risk on a single life will be gradually extended as the funds of the Company augment.

10th. No Director or Officer can obtain a loan of the Company.

11th. When the net profits of the Company amount to $200,000, the excess will be applied towards the redemption of Scrip, giving priority to that first issued; but the amount of $200,000, in addition to the reinsurance fund, will be kept as a permanent fund, in which the members have a pro rata interest.

12th. The funds of the Company to be invested by the Finance Committee in bonds and first mortgages on unencumbered real estate, the actual value of which is twice the amount loaned—or in stocks of the United States, or of the States of N. York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, and Maine, or loaned to members on their Scrip.

13th. No part of the profits is withheld, or diverted from the assured in any way.

14th. There is no stock or loan, either nominal or real, to pay interest for; the company having ample capital in the premiums received.

15th. It enables a man to provide for a wife and children, in such a way, that although he may lose all, they are safe; and all persons, whether married or unmarried, to provide for old age, sickness, and want, as well as for death.

16th. It does not reckon the assured a year older than he is—but from six months less, to six months more, so as to equalize the same between all parties.

17th. It pays no directors, auditors, or solicitors.

18th. A portion of the directors and the officers are chosen yearly, and the members vote according to interest.

19th. The assured can surrender the policy at any time after a term of years, and receive its equitable value.

20th. Every precaution is taken to prevent a forfeiture of policy.

The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, authorized by its charter to make all and every insurance appertaining to or connected with life risks, of whatever kind or nature, and will grant annuities and make endowments, as by the Act of Incorporation, passed the 30th January, 1845.

The Directors of this Company, deeply impressed with the very great, useful, and growing importance to the community at large of Life Insurance, would call the attention of the public to the following observations and principles, as intended to explain to them its peculiar advantages, and the particular features of this valuable institution. It is seen above how extensive the privileges are, reaching to every risk appertaining to or connected with life; guarding and supporting infancy to old age, in all grades of professions and trades; orphans, widows and their children, by a small annual investment, on the principle of Mutual Benefit, arising from Mutual Insurance, being a self-protective society. In this there is no Money Stock; the funds or capital arise from premiums paid in when persons make insurance, and these form the means to make payments on policies, grant loans, pay expenses, and yield profits. All persons insured become members, but are not liable beyond the amount of the premiums to be paid by them. The books of the company are open to them, to see that the sums paid, or securities received, are deposited or invested according to the charter, and the net profits, at fixed periods, are divided among them, as hereafter explained. The table of figures, and the rules, are made and calculated with accuracy, after the experience and practice of old English companies, and all persons can see by them how much they have to pay, and the gains they will be likely to receive. This plan, taken of the Savings Bank and Mutual Insurance, affording the security of the one, and gain of the other, and is entirely benevolent in its operations; it also embraces a provision for Married Women to insure the lives of their husbands for any amount, the premium of which shall not exceed $300 per annum, and is secured to them against any demands in law, of creditors.

The greatest portion of society, who by daily exertions in industry earn support, as artisans and mechanics, deriving livelihood from personal labor and skill, seldom resort to Life Insurance, in any numbers, for a future provision for their families, though to none would it be so important as to them, who, by sickness and death, may in a day, leave those nearest and dearest to them in poverty. To men in mercantile pursuits and those in professional business of every rank and class, or those who have uncertain or small incomes, and who are most numerous in wealth in the aggregate, and have it in their power to provide against the vicissitudes they are constantly exposed to, Life Insurance is also of the utmost importance; they, and those in lower circumstances, are often deterred from entering into contracts of insurance, as the advantages appear remote—bringing contingent on death, or ability to pay the premiums.

To assist all such, this Mutual Benefit society, so arranges the payment of the premiums, and of returns in part of the same, as to enable all persons to become members, and enjoy its advantages while living; thus protecting themselves in life, and providing for their families after their death; in this way a short life may obtain, and leave to their heirs the benefit of a long one.

This Company will grant insurance on lives, on the Mutual principle, to applicants upon their own lives, or the lives of others, for the whole duration of life, or for a limited period, at the rates specified in the tables, for sound and healthy persons. Also, any person in sound health may insure $500 for life upon his own or his wife's life, or the wife upon the life of her husband, of the age of thirty years; (and in like proportion for other ages,) by paying 25 cents weekly, or on $1000 by paying 50 cents weekly, the policy always remaining with the Company, with the premiums paid endorsed thereon; and in case of death they will be entitled to the amount thus insured, deducting therefrom the balance remaining of weekly payments, with interest, for the current year. No risk will be taken on a single life for more than $5,000, until the profits of the Company amount to $50,000, after which, according to the profits, the amount will be gradually extended to a sum not exceeding $15,000.

The better to enable all persons to insure, the Company will annually issue Scrip certificates, of estimated profits, bearing interest at 6 per cent.—Whenever the accumulation of net profits of the Company shall exceed the sum of $200,000, the excess may be applied from year to year, or semi-annually thereafter, towards the redemption of each year's certificates of scrip, in whole or in part, as may be determined on by the board of directors, priority to be given to the scrip first issued. The insured may borrow from the Company on his scrip, two thirds of the amount of the same at any time, which will enable him to use a portion of his profits for the payment of his annual premium, even before the redemption of the scrip. All classes of persons will thus be admitted and enabled to meet the premiums, and have the gain of the Savings Bank, with the profit on a large business, by an actual small investment or outlay of money.

All claims for insurance will be paid three months after satisfactory evidence of the death of the persons deceased is exhibited and approved.

Should it any time be desirable for a person to sell his policy, where it is for life, the Company will purchase the same at an equitable rate.

Parties insured at the table rates of premiums, are not to pass south of the Southern line of Virginia and Kentucky, or east of the Mississippi River, between the first day of June and first day of November; but can visit any part of the United States or Northern British Provinces, between the first of November and first of June. By the payment of an extra premium, insurances can be effected by persons who desire to reside South during the interdicted time.

All persons whose lives are insured by this company, are permitted to travel on any of the regular mail routes, (within the limits prescribed in the policy) or on any of the Northern or Upper Lakes, by steamboat or other common mode of conveyance.

Extra hazardous risks will be taken on persons going out, or residing out of the limits of the policy, and embracing all parts of the world; also on all persons going to sea, and such other risks as may be specially agreed for, being more hazardous, to be expressed in their policies. The extra premiums to be computed upon equitable principles.

Insurances will be made on the lives of Military and Naval Officers, off or on duty, in time of peace, the premium to be settled according to circumstances of climate, locality, &c., as they may be more or less hazardous.

What can better illustrate the wise disposition of the Supreme Being, in the varying term of human life, than the certainty of the general laws that regulate its duration, and the reflections that arise from the contemplation of these laws operating constantly upon the human race? Life Insurance then rests upon the simple fact, that every individual of the human race has, at the period of his birth, a certain term of existence, which he will live through, or what is called the mean duration, or expectation of life at birth.

It is a question how such term of existence, or mean duration, is found. This is done simply by taking the number of years that have been lived through by a party from birth to death, and also of 1000 others born at the same time, and dying at all ages from 1 to 100 years old—the number of years thus lived by each person is added into one sum and being divided by the number of persons, the mean duration of the life of man is ascertained.

If it were found on trial, that on taking the result of the lives of 1,000 or 10,000 individuals, and deducting the mean duration; and then going through the same process with like numbers, and the mean duration of the latter differed widely from the former, it would be of no purpose to follow out experiments; but this is not the fact, and in nothing is the uniformity of the general laws of nature more powerfully exemplified, than in regulating the period of human existence. The result of experience is constant, that two bodies of individuals, each of 1000, living in the same country, and of similar occupations, have each a period of mean duration, which differs only a trifle from that of the other body. Apply this to insurance on life in the same body of persons; they pay a small sum or premium, annually, and the office, or Company, agrees to pay them annually a profit, and a certain sum at the death of each; as, by example, the average expectancy of life is found by experience, to be of a person in health of 25 years, 38 years more; and of 40 years 23 years longer; then by the tables of rates, the first has to pay $20 40-100 a year during his life, to secure, $1000 to be paid to his wife or children after his death; the second pays $32, to insure the same; then taking the gain of interest, and other items, that make up the profits on Mutual Benefit, it is almost certain the amount of $1000 insured will be much increased, when in the end it is to be paid to his heirs, all which is firmly established by the facts of experience. Life Insurance, therefore, on Mutual Benefit, is not a fictitious scheme to draw people into, for money-making purposes. Such an idea, if it exists, is most incorrect, and dissolved at once by the very fact, that this is a Mutual Benefit Company, and consequently any person taking out a policy, becomes a member by a small annual payment, and has a joint interest in its concerns, and a voice in its management.—Founded on scientific principles, exemplified by experience, its real services then to all classes of persons, who are dependent on certain incomes, or salaries, professions, mechanical skill, or daily labor cannot be denied; and it has proved essentially beneficial to the families of such, in event of death, and is therefore an institution ranking among the noblest works of benevolence in the world.

Such being the equitable and beneficial principles on which Mutual Life Insurance is established, it presents a most suitable and favorable means of providing for the endeared and dependent lives of children; for what is the situation of a man, who, for the gratification of his affections, surrounds himself with a wife and child ren, and lives in the enjoyment of those valued blessings, and knowing that in an instant, the cessation of his life may throw them into a state of destitution? The neglect, then, of such a cheap and certain provision, is gross imprudence; for it is not mere a man's absolute duty, to provide while he lives the daily bread for his family, than it is against leaving them to suffer penniless misery in the event of his death. It is then a religious as well as moral duty, to be easily accomplished by weekly, monthly, or yearly earnings—and this Life Insurance of Mutual Benefit, is the protection against such dreadful evils.

The observations and explanations above made on the principles of Life Insurance generally, and particularly the great and very superior advantages exhibited to the public by insuring in this Mutual Benefit Company; the credit which policies will give to men in trade, the gain it may be to all classes in their business vocations, and the duty of all to provide for their families, should induce every person to give this subject a careful consideration, remembering the injunction of Scripture, that "if any provide not for his own, and especially for them of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel."

Hyer's Pills.

The American Improved Hygienic Vegetable medicine.

SAFE, CHEAP AND EFFECTIVE.

This medicine makes no pretensions to miraculous powers, the raising of the dead, or to immense and astounding sales daily and hourly, after the most approved method of the times; but bases all its claims upon plain common sense principles, as a simple aid to nature in restoring the human system to its proper tone and action, when by carelessness or unavoidable circumstances it has become deranged or debilitated, and asks simply a faithful trial as a test of its curative properties.—During the last twenty years it has worked its way into extensive use, solely upon its own merits, by recommendation from individual to individual, not having been advertised for more than twelve years till within the past few months—save occasionally in a journal of which the present proprietor is Editor. The increasing demand, however, has measurably compelled greater attention to its business, and agencies are now being established throughout the country.

A faithful trial of a half dollar or dollar package, almost certain to secure use in every family where it is introduced, when medicine is needed. The undersigned has used it in his own family for more than fifteen years—has knowledge of its approved use in many others, (for periods varying from months to fifteen or sixteen years,) as their only medicine, and knows it to be valuable in most of the complaints incident to the human system. But a long or extravagant commendation is not designed or needed here. Ten thousand mere assertions in its favor will not make it valuable, or satisfy reasonable persons without a trial; for the proof, after all, must lie in the use of it. Try it, then. Read, try, and then judge.

WINTER evenings and YOUNG'S Variety

Store form pleasant associations for the inhabitants of Newport. There is nothing so scarce as that can contribute to the comfort of all, that cannot be obtained at this store, and all as low and a great many much less than can be bought elsewhere in Newport. For example, we will attach the following prices, and every article is warranted.

Western Apples from $1 75 to $2 12 per bbl; shell-barks $2 per bushel; peanuts $1 62 per bushel; chestnuts from four to five dollars per bushel; almonds one shilling per pound; new raisins, figs, dates and currants 12 1/2 cts per pound; we sell these last named articles at wholesale prices. Prunes 20 cts per pound; grapes 25 cts; new citron 28 cts; preserved ginger $1 12 per jar, or 30 cts per pound, in small quantities; candies and all kinds of confectionary cheaper than they have ever been sold at any other store in town, at wholesale and retail, always fresh and of the finest quality; for the truth of this we wish every one to come and judge for themselves.

This is no idle advertisement merely to draw people to my store to disappoint them, but a plain statement of facts, which all may ascertain by calling. Also several kinds of Cough Candy, warranted equal to any now in use, for the cure of all kinds of complaints arising from colds.

Fancy articles and toys of every description, in any quantity, such as silk purses, pocket books, cigar cases, pocket knives, mirrors, razors, hair, strops, hair, clothes, tooth, and shoe brushes, fancy work boxes, walking canes, dominoes, dice, conversation cards, French and Highland do, combs of all kinds, cologne, hair oil and pomatum, cigars, tobacco, and everything that is ever kept in a confectionary and variety store.

New sweet cider on draught or by the barrel. H. H. YOUNG, South of Town Hall.

To all Lovers of Pure and FRAGRANT TEAS!

WILLIAM NEWTON,

150 Thames Street, Newport Rhode Island,

AGENT FOR THE

CANTON & PEKIN TEA COMPANY

Of New York.

THIS Company, although it cannot boast of being "The oldest Tea Establishment in America," does claim to have sold during the two years of its existence, more good, pure, and unadulterated Teas, and at lower prices, than any other similar establishment in the United States.

The following is a list of their retail prices, which will be found to be nearly the same as those of similar Companies. The only difference they claim is in the quality of the Teas.

Brownell's Cooking Range.

THE subscriber has just completed the invention of a new Cooking Range, to which he invites the attention of the public. This Range possesses qualities for expeditious boiling and cooking that other Ranges do not, and it occupies but a small space of room.

Brownell's Cooking Range has six eight inch boilers, any two, or four of which, can be thrown into one, so as to admit of a large boiler; and it is provided with a set of rings so that any size furniture can be used on it. Its Oven is large, convenient of access, and having an upward draft, it bakes evenly with a small quantity of fuel.

One of these Ranges is in successful operation at the store of the subscriber, subject to the examination of the public, who are invited to call and take a look at it. WILLIAM BROWNELL.
